Workshop on Avgorou VET school

Our long-standing partnership with the Avgorou VET school in Cyprus has once again proven beneficiary for both parties. Our staff had the opportunity of presenting the Online Training Course in person to a team of highly skilled engineering and agricultural educators. In the workshop that followed, the educators had the chance to follow one of the fourteen modules available and complete the interactive quizzes included in the course. The overall comments were very positive, and it is with great interest that we wait for the educators' comments on the whole course.

Webinar: Education and advocacy for environmental justice

On June 13, Web2Learn hosted an online multiplier event on “Education and advocacy for environmental justice”. The event aimed at presenting the educational value of environmental justice by bringing its focus on citizen science and citizen deliberation.

We were proud to have invited four great speakers:

- Lucie Greyl, NGO “A SUD”.
- Daniele Tubino de Souza, Wageningen University.
- Anna Berti Suman, 'Sensing for Justice' (SensJus).
- Flaviano Bianchini, NGO Source International.

Speakers' slides are accessible here.

The video recording of the event is available here.

COMING SOON

Online Training Course field test for VET students

With the beginning of the new school year, our training course will be taught to VET students in all consortium countries. It will be an excellent opportunity for them to profit from engaging with our innovative material. For us, it is a highly beneficial procedure aimed at teaching us how the program is received by the people it is meant to educate and what we can do to make its impact on young minds even greater!

Stay Tuned!
